The Edinburgh Festivals say a lot about the vitality of the cultural scene in Scotland, featuring artists from all over the world as well as talents living right next door.

As an institution deeply rooted in the Scottish cultural landscape, the Institut français d'Ecosse has always participated in the festivals' excitement, as a supporter and a venue.

In the summer 2012 the Institut hosted theatre shows, film screenings, talks, social events and parties for the Festival Fringe, the International Festival and the Book Festival.

Photographer Albie Clark captured the images – on stage and backstage – of a vibrant and very French festivals venue.
